THREE WOUNDED WHILE OVERSEAS

Robert Dyer, Jr., is Home on First Furlough After 7 Years Continuous Service

IN ALL IMPORTANT BATTLES

Once Wounded by Shrapnel, Once by Aerial Bomb and Was Gassed
While at Soissons

After seven years continuous service in the regular army on the Mexican border and in France, where he participated in all of the important engagements after America entered the war, and was three times wounded, Robert Dyer, Jr., is returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dyer, Sr., 8 East Eighth street in Rushville. Dyer was in the first American unit to sail for France and was gassed with the first American troops who ever faced the Huns. He went from June, 1913 to 1917 on the Mexican border where he participated in several local engagements including Villa's notorious raid on Columbus, New Mexico, which was a Mexican bandit's Waterloo, and fought across the border from Douglas, Arizona, with the American expedition which was sent into Mexico after Villa and returned empty-handed.

Dyer has three decorations and insignias to show for his reward. He is awarded the Division Medal of Honor of the French Foreign Legion during the battle around Soissons July 18, 1918, which was officially known as the Aisne-Marne counter offensive. The First and Second U. S. divisions and the French Foreign Legion, known as the best of the allied shock troops, were in this engagement, Dyer says. The French Croix de Guerre—Cross of War—with palm leaf, a decoration awarded by the French government of any of the allied troops for gallantry in action, whether or not under orders, is the one which is valued highly by the local

GUARANTORS' TICKETS GOING LIKE WILDFIRE

Persons Holding Any Asked to Deliver Them to F. E. Wolcott by Friday Night

NEW DATE BELIEVED FACTOR.

All guarantors of the Rush County Chautauqua association, who have tickets left, are asked to take them to F. E. Wolcott, treasurer of the association, by Friday night and they will be disposed of because it is believed that the demand for guarantors' tickets, twelve hundred guarantors' tickets were issued this year, not counting children's season tickets and school teachers' tickets.

Forty-five tickets were sold at the grove and Mullin's drug store yesterday, having been taken there by guarantors, and an equally large number were disposed of at Wolcott's drug store. There were four half season tickets left this morning at Wolcott's and none at Har-ove and Mullin's.

The demand for guarantors' tickets forecasts the best attendance in the history of the chautauqua and confirms the opinion of the directors to set the date of the assembly a week later this year because they believed more people would have an opportunity to attend. In past years many farmers had not finished harvesting the first week in August formerly the date of the chautauqua.

INDIANA STATE LIBRARY FORESEE NEW ALIGNMENT

Politicians Predict Possible Destruction of Political Structure.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 7.—Destruction of the existing political structure is foreseen by some politicians in congress, if American labor goes through with its plans in the 1920 election to take their demands to the people for nationalization of the railroads.

This disturbance may amount to a realignment in which conservative members, both democrats and republicans may unite to prevent carrying out the plan which they regard as socialistic.

TO CONFER OVER WILSON MESSAGE

Committee of Cabinet Members and Other Government Officials to Meet Late Today

HUNT FOR PROFITEERS IS ON

Agents of Department of Justice
Begin Search For Price Gougers
—Stocks of Food Greater

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 7.—President Wilson will confer late today with the committee of cabinet members and other high government officials to draw up recommendations on which he is basing his food price message to congress.

Although the purpose of the conference has not been announced, it is believed Wilson intends to read to these officials the plan he will present to congress at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

The president apparently may be delayed by the absence of a quorum in the house.

Calls have been sent to about 250 members but there is a possibility that a roll call will be taken and half of the members will be vacationing.

An army of more than 1,000 agents and employees of the department of justice today plunged into a nation wide hunt for evidence to gain wholesale convictions of food profiteers and price gougers.

Spreading over every section of the United States, this force of investigators began work under orders of 200 federal attorneys.

United States marshals and deputies will help. Attorney General Palmer will keep in personal touch with the situation. He was in his office today directing the work.

"I ordered everything else side-tracked," he said. The first arrests are expected in a few days, it was said at Palmer's office today.

With prices generally higher, stocks of food in storage this year are much greater than any other year, the federal trade commission reported today.

The commission charged that apparently these stocks are being held for still higher prices.

IS TAKEN TO REFORMATORY

William Sweazey Begins Serving 3 to 14 Years Term Today.

Sheriff Jones left this morning with William Sweazey for the state reformatory at Jeffersonville. Sweazey will begin serving his sentence of from 3 to 14 years, having been sentenced by Judge Sparks on a horse thieving charge. Sweazey admitted taking the horse and buggy, belonging to John C. Frazier, from the hitchrack here, and drove to Osgood, where he was apprehended.

J. H. Tarplee has resigned his position with Will M. Spivey and will go back on his farm about the first of September.

TWO STATE CASES NOLLIED IN COURT

Charges Against Flora Sutton For
Bigamy and Harold Grant Taken
Off Docket

LACK OF EVIDENCE IS CAUSE

Mrs. Magdeline Rosencrance is Restored to Sanity on Petition of
Her Daughter

There was nothing of much importance going on today in court, but several minor cases were taken care of yesterday afternoon, thus making more room for the regular term of court which starts in September.

This morning the petition of Mary Rosencrance asking that her mother, Mrs. Magdeline Rosencrance, be restored to sanity, was sustained, and the court adjudged Mrs. Rosencrance a person of sound mind, and capable of taking care of her own business. Chauncey Duncan represented the petitioner.

The case of the state against Flora Sutton was nollied yesterday afternoon. The state filed a charge of bigamy against Mrs. Sutton, and it was nollied by the court on a motion of the prosecuting attorney for lack of evidence.

Another case set for yesterday afternoon was nollied for the same reason, it being the case of the state against Harold Grant, on a charge of evading payment of a boarding house bill.

This morning, Mrs. Zadie L. Clark through her attorney, John Tittsworth, filed a complaint against Alvin Clark, asking that the allowance which he has been paying for the support of their children, be increased. They were divorced September 20, 1917, and the court allowed Mrs. Clark $5 a week as support money for their three children, and this order was later modified on account of his sickness, and was cut to only $3.00 a week. She complains now that he is a well man, is making more money, and can easily afford to pay more, especially as the price of food, clothing and living necessities have advanced so much in the last year, and that it is only just that he pay more money. The case has been set for a hearing at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

SAYS ROADS WILL BE BLOCKED IN 3 DAYS

President of Council Directing the Strike of Shopmen in Middle
West Makes Prediction.

STRIKERS ASKED TO RETURN

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Practically all railroads of the middle west had in effect today orders to accept freight "subject to delay" on account of the strike of railway shopmen. The strike of the shopmen continued to spread, and M. L. Hawer, president of the council directing the strike in the middle west, said that "traffic would be discontinued in three days."

R. H. Aishton, regional director of railroads for the northwest issued the following statement regarding the conditions governing freight:

"Beginning immediately and continuing until further notice all freight of every description in carload lots will be accepted as subject to delay on account of the strike. All bills of lading must be indorsed: 'This freight accepted subject to delay on account of strike.'"

Representatives of the shopmen employed on the Michigan Central railroads between Chicago and Buffalo, at a meeting in Jackson, Mich., adopted resolutions supporting the officers of the international union.

BOY GIVEN 60 DAYS IN THE PENAL FARM

Jake Osborn Also Fined $25 When Found Guilty by Mayor. For
Throwing Rock at Girl

APPEALS TO CIRCUIT COURT

Other Boys in Crowd Who Followed
Two Couples Last Saturday
Night Allowed to go Free

Jake Osborn, 613 West First street, was found guilty yesterday afternoon in police court, of assault and battery, on Miss Irene Maple, and was fined by Mayor Irvin, $25 and costs and 60 days at the penal farm. Osborn, through his attorney, Will Newbold, took an appeal, and his bond was placed at $100, which was provided.

Osborn was arraigned together with Ray Foster, Wilson Sailor, Charley Barnes and one or two other young men, on the above charges, and all pleaded not guilty. The evidence disclosed the fact that two young women, Irene and Violet Maple, were in company with Clarence Carpenter and Fred Hite on last Saturday night and were walking toward the Maple home, corner of Tenth and Arthur streets, about midnight, and these young men were following them, singing songs "not nice to be repeated."

At one place a rock was thrown and struck Irene Maple, but she was unable to state who it was that threw it. She said, however, that it must have come from the "bunch which was following." It was on this score that Osborn was fined, and the remaining boys were allowed to go, with a suspended sentence.

In giving his decision, Mayor Irvin said that the boys did not have any business following the two couples, and that they were evidently intent on doing something wrong. The fact that the Osborn boy had been in court on other charges, was given by the mayor as the reason for the stiff fine and sentence for this alleged offense.

EMBARGOES PUT ON PERISHABLE FREIGHT

Many Indianapolis Railroads Not
Accepting Live Stock For Ship-
ment—Orders Come Here

FREIGHTS FEW AND SHORT

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 7.—Embargoes on live stock and perishable freight was put into effect out of Indianapolis today by some railroads while others plan an absolute embargo on freight because of the strike of shopmen.

The C. I. & W. will not accept live stock and perishables. The Chesapeake and Ohio took similar action. The Pennsylvania will not guarantee shipment east of Columbus, Ohio. Every shop in Indianapolis is closed.

Rushville has already felt the shopmen's walkout and today trains were short in length and far between. J. M. Higgins, joint freight agent for the C. I. & W. and the Pennsylvania Lines, said that he had received orders from the C. I. & W. not to accept freight shipments for points west of Indianapolis, and that probably in a day or so, no freight could be accepted at all.

Mr. Higgins said that he had received a telegram asking for the number of freight shipments of the perishable freight, but had four filled cars, which will probably be picked up at once and started on their trip. The Pennsylvania Lines were not accepting freight, except to points on this division, and no further east than Columbus, O.

EXPLAINS RAILROAD BILL

Glenn E. Plumb Appears in Behalf
of Measure He Prepared

Washington, Aug. 7.—Glenn E. Plumb, attorney for the railway trainmen brotherhoods and author of the Plumb plan for public ownership of the railroads, appeared today before the house interstate commerce committee, and explained in detail his proposed plan for operating the roads. The Plumb plan has been incorporated in the Sims bill, which the railroad men are urging before the committee.

Mr. Sims has explained that he introduced the bill by request, as he would any other bill.

BRINGS BIG SUM AT AUCTION SALE

Sarah E. Ball's Farm of Over 161
Acres, With Scarcely Any Buildings, Sells for $31,672.50.

AUCTIONED IN TWO PARTS

One Goes to Mrs. Margaret Glendenning for $192.50 and Other to
Irvin Price for $201.

The Sarah E. Ball farm, which was sold yesterday at auction in two parts, brought a good price. The south section consisting of 81 and a fraction acres was purchased by Mrs. Margaret Glendenning, and the north section consisting of 80 and a fraction acres, was sold to Irvin Price. The entire consideration amounted to $31,672.50.

The south section, purchased by Mrs. Glendenning was bid off at $192.50 per acre, and the north section sold for $201 per acre to Mr. Price. The farm lies 7 miles northwest of Rushville, and is known as the old Cyrus Ball homestead.

The price obtained for the above farm is considered very good, as there are practically no buildings on it, but the farm land itself is very valuable.

The selling of farms by auction is practically a new idea, and has been tried here on only a few occasions before. The auction was extensively advertised throughout Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, and bidders were here from many places. "Dusty" Miller, the auctioneer, remarked that he had never before seen such a crowd at a land sale, and that there were enough bidders present to sell a hundred such farms, or that the crowd equalled in size to any which would attend a public sale of $100,000 worth of personal property.

BOLT HITS "GAS" TANK

Vincennes, Ind., Aug. 7.—During a storm, which passed over this region last night, a 35,000-barrel steel tank near Lawrenceville, Ill., containing 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline was struck by lightning and the contents destroyed.

WOUNDED SOLDIER DROWNS

Shelbyville, Ind., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Nora Bennett of Morristown, Shelby county, has received word of the death, by drowning, of her brother, Private Charles F. Rinehart. The soldier, who had been gassed and wounded during the war, had been sent to a hospital near Flagstaff, Arizona.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Extra precautions were taken to keep order about the stockyards today with the return of many of the 15,000 negro employees engaged there before the race riots of last week. Large contingents of soldiers and deputy sheriffs patrolled Thirty-fifth, Forty-seventh and Halsted streets, while 500 policemen were stationed inside the yards.

NEW HUNGARIAN PREMIER OUSTED

Police Execute Coup D'Etat, Arresting Members of Cabinet While in Official Session.

PEACE CONFERENCE REPORT

Says Arch Duke Joseph Has Established Government—No Disorder
Accompanies Overthrow

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Aug. 7.—A Vienna correspondent of a German paper reported today that a counter revolutionary government had offered the Hungarian crown to King Ferdinand of Roumania.

Paris, Aug. 7.—Julius Peidl, premier of the new Hungarian government, has been overthrown, the peace conference was advised to day.

The report stated that Arch Duke Joseph had established a government.

The coup d'etat by which Peidl was overthrown, was carried out by the Hungarian police, it was said. There were no disorders. The police arrested members of the cabinet while holding an official session.

It was held by the peace conference today that the Roumanian ultimatum to the Hungarians, demanding surrender of materials, upsets the reparation terms of the Austrian treaty.

French division in the Orient, it was learned today, may be ordered to Budapest in case Roumanian forces do not leave, if ordered by the allies.

Some American troops and minor detachments of French, British and Roumanians are now occupying Budapest jointly with the Roumanians, advises to the peace conference stated today.

The peace conference received advice today that the Hungarian Soviet democrats (represented by the Peidl ministry) has appealed to the allies not to permit the Roumanian occupation and establishment of a reactionary government.

Roumanians were reported today to be pillaging Budapest. This action had been taken after Roumania notified Hungary that in as much as the Austrian terms had not been accepted, Roumanian forces would cross the Danube.

SAYS PACKERS ARE TO BE INVESTIGATED

United States District Attorney
Declares Grand Jury Will Meet
in Chicago Soon

DENIAL SWIFT IS IN BIG 5

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 7.—Evidence against the packers will be presented to the grand jury in Chicago, which meets in three weeks, United States District Attorney Clyne of Chicago said here today.

Appearing before the senate subcommittee of the District of Columbia, investigating the high cost of living, L. Weld of Swift and company today denied that the Swift concern is a member of the alleged big five packers combination.

"I want to say," he said, "that Swift and company is in keen competition with all other packers that it is impossible to lower the price of meat in any way. Furthermore, no legislation or government interference with packing industries could possibly reduce the price of meat. Rather, such interference would increase operating cost and hence raise prices."

WHILE OVERSEAS

soldier. The palm leaf indicates bravery of the individual cited. Dyer's was awarded in October, 1917, during the Baccarat defensive action.

Dyer also has the insignia of the Allied Victory Medal which is given to all troops in the war, providing they arrived overseas before the armistice was signed. The medal will have bars attached with the names of each major action in which the wearer was engaged. Due to the haste in demobilizing the army, the medals were not distributed, but home-going troops were provided with the insignia and given authority to attach a broeze star.

Dyer also has an insignia to show he served on the border. There are three different badges issued by authority of congress, one for national guardsmen, one for regular army men and another to show service in interior Mexico.

Dyer likewise wears an American Army Qualification Medal, which he won in April, 1917. He is rated as a first expert, which entitles him to $5 extra pay each month.

On June 2, 1917, Dyer's organization, the Eighteenth Infantry, embarked at Douglas for a continuous trip to France by way of Hoboken, New Jersey and St. Nazaire, France. After twenty-one days on the water dodging submarines, this outfit, the first American unit to sail, landed in France. The Eighteenth was subjected to three and a half months intensive training in preparation for the front line trenches and during October, of 1917, together with the Sixteenth Infantry, entered the trenches in what was known as the Baccarat sector. His regiment was wholly equipped for overseas service by the French and British governments, Dyer says.

The American Expeditionary Forces suffered their first casualties when these two regiments went into battle. The brigade was relieved and given a short rest in the training area, and then re-entered the front line trenches in the Toul sector. Dyer suffered his first wound in this sector when two pieces of shrapnel lodged in his right leg.

The Rushville boy was ready for the front line again after being treated in the hospital at Toul for a month and a half and was transferred to the Montdidier sector in Picardy where the allied general staff tried out the mettle of the American forces before using them in larger and more important battles.

While in the Picardy sector, Dyer suffered the second wound when he was gassed. The brigade was in the vicinity of Montdidier ninety-seven days before being relieved, and then following only two days in rest billets, was rushed to the Soissons front where, on the morning of the memorable day, July 18, 1918, the First American division, with the help of the Second division and the French Foreign Legion, started the Germans on the retreat which ended in "unconditional surrender."

In this engagement Dyer was again wounded. Two fragments of aerial bomb entered his side, lodging on each side of his heart. Dyer still carries these "souvenirs" of the war. The third wound put Dyer in the hospital for two months and he recovered in time to get into the famous St. Mihiel drive, in which American divisions completely wiped out a dangerous enemy salient in two days.

Dyer's outfit was transferred to the Saizerous sector and October 1 to the Argonne operations, termed the bloodiest engagement of the war. He was in this battle until the armistice was signed November 11. On May 10, 1919, after spending the intervening months in convalescent

Catarrh Specialist
Coming to Rushville

WILL GIVE FREE EXAMINATION AND ADVICE

Medical Director of Indiana Catarrh Institute to Give Talk on Catarrh and Tuberculosis.

Chronic catarrh of the nose, throat and lungs is so prevalent and is so often the forerunner of fatal diseases like tuberculosis, influenza, asthma, hay fever and others that the Indiana Catarrh Institute, permanently located at 1436 North Illinois street, Indianapolis, Ind., is sending their medical director to a few points in Indiana to examine and advise sufferers from this disease on how to prevent or cure it.

Catarrh, besides being extremely disagreeable and annoying, with its continual coughing, hawking and spitting, is positively dangerous, as it leads to many fatal diseases and undermines the strength and health of the whole system. It is a stubborn disease to cure, requiring the skill of an expert and experienced specialist to properly rid the system of it in a short time. It is very seldom, if ever, cured by patent medicines, mail order treatment, home remedies and the like.

The Indiana Catarrh Institute is a large institute, devoted entirely and exclusively to the treatment of catarrh. It has a staff of specialists who have devoted more than sixteen years to the study of this one disease.

There is no other institution like it in this country and their methods used in curing catarrh are different from any other in this country. Their methods can be used either in the Institute or in the home, according to patient's convenience. Anyone visiting Indianapolis is invited to call at the Institute and investigate their methods and results. But for convenience, it is well to see the Medical director; an expert specialist, when he is in this city.

His examination, consultation and advice is free. He invites everyone who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose, throat or lungs, chronic cough and bronchitis, dropping mucus in the throat, pains in the chest, shortness of breath, clogged up head and nostrils, head noise, catarrhal deafness, hawking and spitting, or any chronic catarrhal condition, to be examined and get his advice without charge or obligation. He will be glad to talk with you, giving you the benefit of his skill and experience freely.

Beware of tuberculosis and other fatal conditions by taking treatment in time.

The specialist will be at the Hotel Scanlan Wednesday, August 13th, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., one day only, and will examine all who call to see him.

For further information either call in person or write The Indiana Catarrh Institute, 1436 N. Illinois St., Indianapolis, Ind.—Adv.

GIVES BOND AND WILL SETTLE WITH THE BANK

John A. Spurrier is Accused of Issuing Fraudulent Check by Gwynneville State Bank

COMES AS SURPRISE TO HIM

John A. Spurrier, local piano dealer, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by the Shelby county sheriff and his deputy, on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check and was taken to that city to answer the charge which was contained in an affidavit filed by the Gwynneville State bank, alleging that Mr. Spurrier had issued a check in the bank's possession to the amount of $110. The check was drawn on the Farmer's National Bank at Wilkinson, and was made payable to the Gwynneville bank, bearing the date of November 29, 1918.

Mr. Spurrier came home from Shelbyville last night, having given bond, and will settle the account with the bank. He stated this morning that the action surprised him considerably, as he knew that the check was out, and supposed that the bank would wait for a time, as he had a deal on which would reimburse his funds at the bank. Mr. Spurrier stated this morning that he had often had checks out, without funds, and the bank had waited.

Capt. Tench Says Large Crowds are Attending Interdenominational Evangelistic Meeting

"PRISONERS" DON'T COMPLAIN

The interdenominational evangelistic campaign being held at the Salvation Army church continues in full swing and good crowds are attending every night.

"In the nine drives fourteen persons have been captured and the enemy has reported a number of wounded in the field," said Capt. Tench today.

"Everything points to a great advance movement at any time. Of the fourteen persons captured, none is complaining about ill use, but all of them say that they are glad to be in active service for Christ."

The meeting will be held tonight in the Glory Room at 7:30 o'clock and at 8 p. m. in the big room. All are cordially invited to attend.

Too Much Whitewash

The incarceration of Lieutenant "Hardboiled" Smith in a military prison for his infamous treatment of prisoners on the prison farm near Paris, while the colonel in command escaped punishment, is but another item which confirms the public in the belief that the little culprit in our army gets soaked while the culprit higher up is white-washed and allowed to go free.

It is disgusting. It is more, it is a crime against justice in the army of the United States.

It lends additional strength to the growing belief that there was something radically wrong in the administration of the A. E. F.

It is a well established fact that when a commander is without due regard for law and justice and humanity himself, he can only expect that his subordinates will take their cue from him. Was this so in the case of "Hardboiled" Smith? Was it possible that he could subject his prisoners to such inhuman treatment without his immediate command being cognizant of the fact? And was it possible for such things to occur in the A. E. F. without other officers still higher up having a knowledge of conditions?

The inspector who investigated the case of Smith recommended that the colonel also be tried by court martial. Yet the colonel appears to have had sufficient pull to render him immune.

It is even charged that in a military prison in Paris, American officers, even some of high rank, were chained like wild beasts.

We have had much to say about the cruelty and inhumanity of the Hun. But judging from reports that are being made public regarding the A. E. F. we could do well to clean our own house before we criticize others.

Our dear friends in Washington wonder why our fathers and mothers do not care to have their sons serve in the army, but if they will open their eyes to the facts as they exist there will be no occasion whatever for wonderment. The facts are too painfully evident.

Our country is facing a grave crisis in the public unrest, and one which will call for every ounce of loyalty on the part of its citizenship. But we can not expect that loyalty unless justice prevails. When the public loses confidence in its army officials, we are approaching dangerously near to the point of disintegration.

For the good of our country, let us have a full and thorough investigation of these charges.

Ten Judges Find 2.75 Beer Legal

It is reported that a survey of the findings of courts throughout the country concerning 2.75 per cent. beer has been made by the anti-war-time prohibition forces and according to their report, a preponderance of legal sentiment is against the jailing of a citizen for the sale of 2.75 per cent. beer. Only one Judge, the report says, has decided that such beer is illegal. Part of the report reads as follows:

"Fourteen United States judges have dealt with this question. Ten of them have held that the statute does not forbid non-intoxicating beer. One Judge has held that the statute does forbid non-intoxicating beer, anything which is called beer must be assumed to be intoxicating. The remaining Judges have rendered

THE GREATEST REMEDY ON EARTH—ACID IRON MINERAL.

Millions of people suffer year after year, from ailments affecting practically every part of the body, never dreaming that their ill health can be traced directly to acid-stomach. Here is the reason: poor digestion means poor nourishment of the different organs and tissues of the body. The blood is impoverished — becomes weak, thin, sluggish. Ailments of many kinds spring from such conditions. Biliousness, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, general weakness, loss of power and energy, headache, insomnia, nervousness, mental depression—even more serious ailments, such as catarrh and cancer of the stomach, intestinal ulcers, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble—all of these can often be traced directly to acid-stomach.

Keep a sharp lookout for the first symptom of acid-stomach—indigestion, heartburn, belching, food repeating, that awful painful bloated after eating, and sour, gassy stomach. ACID IRON MINERAL, the wonderful modern remedy for acid-stomach, is guaranteed to bring quick relief from these stomach miseries. Thousands say they never dreamed that anything could bring such speedy relief—and make them feel so much better in every way. Try ACID IRON MINERAL and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Make your life worth living—no aches or pains—no blues or melancholy—no more of that tired, listless feeling. Be well and strong. Get back your physical and mental punch, your vim, vigor and vitality. You will always be weak and ailing as long as you have acid-stomach. So get rid of it now by taking ACID IRON MINERAL. Also call for A I M Pills and take one every night until stomach, kidneys and liver are relieved.

New and Bright Yarns That Will Tickle You and Will be Relished by Your Friends When You Repeat Them.

The freight conductor, an officious person, spied a noticeably husky tramp riding the bumpers and in sign language motioned to a negro brakeman to "Give him the razz." There was a sudden flurry. The negro tottered backwards vigorously kicked in the jaw. As he ambled up to the freight conductor he said:

"Boss, Ah jess couldn't put him off. He said he was youah cousin." "My what?" boarded the conductor. "I never had no cousin. Watch me, Kid!" Exactly what happened will never be known, but the conductor was hurled through space and lay in a gully off the railroad with his face buried in the cinders. He finally sat up, blew cinders out of his bruised face and yelled to the astonished brakeman:

"He was me cousin, all right." (Submitted by Miss Mae Ammons, 2117 South Street, Huston, Texas.)

Amusements

Instead of showing the picture tonight at the Princess of "For Better, for Worse," the management has substituted Henry Walthall in "False Faces," a picture adapted from the book written by Louis Joseph Vance, and is said to be an exceptionally good play, dealing with mystery, romance and adventure. Saturday's program promises to be good, as May Allison will be seen in "Peggy Does Her Darndest."

Elmo Lincoln at Mystic.

Episode Two of Elmo Lincoln's great serial, "Elmo the Mighty," will be shown at the Mystic Theatre today. This continues the fast pace set in the opening episode.

The famous star of the "Tarzan" pictures is riding to the rescue of his sweetheart, Lucille Gray, who has been abducted by the villains. The mystery action is heightened, and after many thrilling adventures, Elmo, after rescuing Lucille, is himself cornered by the timber swindlers, along with the girl. Both take refuge in an abandoned mine, which is blown up by the villains, entombing Elmo and the girl. "Buried Alive" is the title of this episode.

The story of Priscilla Dean's rise to stardom reads like an up-to-date novel by Horatio Alger, Jr., with a girl as the principal character of such a piece of literature can be imagined.

The star of "The Exquisite Thief," the Universal Special Attraction, which will be shown Friday at the Mystic Theatre, owes her rise to hard work and persistence.

Miss Dean was born twenty years ago in New York of Irish parentage. Her mother was an actress, and Priscilla made her debut at the age of four, in Joseph Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle" company. After touring the country, as a child actress, in Ben Greet's Shakespearean company, Miss Dean attended convent school, but at fourteen returned to the stage in support of James Hearne in "Hearts of Oak."

It was a few years later that she decided to go into pictures. Not being invited to go at a large salary, she went anyway, and took what she could get. That was an extra's precarious and intermittent wage with the old Vogue company.

After a short time in the East Miss Dean joined the migration to California, and eventually wound up at the Universal lot. She was still a long way from being a star, and was appearing in minor parts in comedies. But the Horatio Alger tactics resolutely applied lifted her

BULLET PIERCES HIS HAND

Dwight Moore, 17, Seriously Injured While Cleaning Revolver

While engaged in cleaning a .38 calibre, hammerless revolver, yesterday afternoon, Dwight Moore, son of William Moore, suffered a badly injured left hand, when the revolver exploded. The bullet pierced the palm of his hand, going clear through without touching a bone. Due to this fact no serious complication are expected. Moore is about 17 years old and was at his home in North Oliver street at the time of the accident. He received medical attention, and aside from powder burns, the wound will heal rapidly.

PLANT LATE CROPS NOW
TO GET MOST OFF GARDEN

Too many gardeners have the habit of laying by their gardens in July and allowing the plot to grow weeds for the remainder of the season. There are many things that may be planted at this time that will produce good crops before freezing weather. The early vegetables help to keep the table supplied with good food during the summer but it is the late crops that are of greatest value to store during the winter or to can when cooler days make the kitchen work less arduous.

Root crops should be planted by all means for fall use and winter storage. Short season varieties of beets and carrots as well as winter radishes, may be sown now and the first of August fall turnips should be planted in any vacant place available, according to C. R. Mason of Purdue University.

A final planting of bush snap beans now should be made, using such quick maturing stringless varieties as "stringless green pod." For best quality the pods should be picked when young and tender. Planted now, beans should be obtained from the middle of September or before, until the vines are killed by frost.

It is rather late to plant sweet corn, but the gardener runs a chance of securing well filled ears for the table before frost if weather conditions are favorable and an early variety, such as Golden Bantam is used. See of Endive and Petai or Chinese Cabbage for fall salads should be sown now while leaf let-

For "greens" plant kale now and the first part of August sow mustard and spinach. Kale will be unhurt by frost and may be used late in the season.

Through the planting of the above crops the garden plot will be kept well filled and a plentiful variety of fresh vegetables will be supplied for the home table through the fall season.

7 PROVISIONS OF TREATY ATTACKED

Discussion of Those Points Which Must Stand the Brunt of Attack
by Senators.

EACH ARTICLE EXPLAINED

Article Ten of the Provisions is the
Chief One Which Meets Most Disapproval.

By L. C. MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 7.—Seven provisions of the peace treaty must stand the brunt of the attack by senators who demand reservations and amendments as the price of their vote for ratification.

Chief among these provisions is Article Ten of the League of Nations covenant. The text of this clause follows:

"Article 10.—The Members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all Members of the League. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the Council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

Those demanding elimination of Article Ten, or at least a reservation by the United States respecting it, declare that he article obligates the United States, under the advice of the League council, to join in wars everywhere for preservation of the existing boundaries and stability of present governments. They declare it binds the United States to make war at the order of a body composed of eight foreigners and one American, and that this clearly is an attempt to rob congress of its constitutional power of declaring and waging war.

Those defending the article insist that the obligation incurred is not a legal one, but merely one of honor; that the United States need not accept and act on the advice of the council unless it feels that course is proper; that the article, while obligating this government to respect the territory and independence of all other powers, also obligates each of them to respect the United States' territorial integrity and political independence.

The next provision is that referring to the Monroe Doctrine. It reads:

"Article 21.—Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the maintenance of peace."

This article does not protect the Monroe doctrine as an American policy, many senators declare, because it does not properly define the doctrine. They assert that the Monroe doctrine is not a regional understanding but a distinctly American foreign policy. They want a reservation to the effect that nothing in the treaty shall be construed to imply a relinquishment by the United States of its traditional attitude toward purely American questions, or to require the submission of its policy regarding what it deems to be purely American questions to the decision or recommendation of other powers.

Administration senators reply that Article 21 is in fact a recognition for the first time by the great world powers of the Monroe doctrine and that the League Covenant itself in effect extends the principles of that doctrine to the whole world.

The third provision against which objection is made is that relating to domestic questions. In this case, it is an alleged conflict of two provisions which has caused the demand for amendment or reservation. These two provisions follow:

"Article 11.—Any war or threat of war, whether immediately affecting any of the members of the League or not, is hereby declared to be a matter of concern to the whole League, and the League shall take such action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations. It is also declared to be the friendly right of each member of the League to bring to the attention of the Assembly or the council any circumstances whatever affecting international relations which threatens to disturb international peace or the good understanding between nations on which peace depends."

"Article 15 (paragraph eight).—If the dispute between the parties is claimed by one of them and is found by the council to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the Council shall so report, and shall make no recommendation as to its settlement."

Those demanding a reservation

making plain the refusal of the United States to admit that the League has jurisdiction over domestic questions like immigration, the tariff and regulation of coastwise trading, declare that Article Eleven authorizes the League to take jurisdiction. They point to the language "any war or threat of war", and "any circumstances, whatever affecting international relations," as proof of their contention. They insist that the quoted paragraph of Article 15 does not prevent the League taking jurisdiction, if war is threatened by a dispute over a question which lies purely within the domestic jurisdiction of one party, but to the handling of which under such jurisdiction, the other party seriously objects. The immigration question is cited as an example. While recognized by some international law experts as purely domestic, immigration is held by others to have an international aspect.

League supporters, however, insist that the definite provision of Article 15 absolutely shuts out of consideration any domestic question, and leaves it for settlement between the two nations.

The fourth provision upon which a reservation is demanded is that covering withdrawal from the League. Its text follows:

"Article 1 (paragraph 3).—Any member of the League may, after two years notice of its intention to do so, withdraw from the League, provided that all its international obligations and all its obligations under the covenant shall have been fulfilled at the time of its withdrawal."

The criticism here is that the provision allows the League—that is, foreign nations—to decide, in the case of the United States, whether this government has fulfilled its obligations. The demand is that the right of the United States to be the judge of its own obligations and the fulfillment of them be recognized.

The reply made to this criticism is that the provision applies not only to the United States, but to every nation in the League, and that what as fair for one is fair for all.

Disarmament, as provided for in Article Eight of the Covenant is another section causing dissatisfaction, and a demand for a reservation. This provision reads:

"Article 8.—The members of the League recognize that the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations.

"The Council, taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each state, shall formulate plans for such reduction for the consideration and action of the several governments.

"Such plans shall be subject to reconsideration and revision at least every ten years.

"After these plans shall have been adopted by the several governments, the limits of armaments therein fixed shall not be exceeded without the concurrence of the council.

"The members of the League agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war is open to grave objections. The council shall advise how the evil effects attendant upon such manufacture can be prevented due regard being had to the necessities of those members of the league which are not able to manufacture the munitions and implements of war necessary for their safety.

"The members of the league undertake to interchange full and frank information as to the scale of their armaments, their military, naval and air programs, and the condition of such of their industries as are adaptable to war like purposes."

The criticism directed against this article is that while it discusses disarmament, it does not really provide for it. The fact that the council's function is merely that of drawing

An Internal Treatment For Piles (Hemorrhoids)

Gives Absolute Relief From All Pain and Suffering. Has Never Failed.
Guaranteed.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.

Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, the discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that taken internally passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble, where by its soothing, healing antiseptic action, it first allays and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.—(Adv.)

up and submitting a plan, which may be rejected by any government, is held by league critics to be a fatal defect in any plan designed effectively to disarm nations.

Another criticism is that if the United States accepts this article, it will bind itself to accept the orders of the council, made up of one American and eight foreigners, as to the size of the American army and navy.

But the league's supporters contend that Article Eight goes as far towards disarmament as the league could go, and that nations entering the league in good faith will make the article effective by agreeing to the council's suggestions, unless they clearly run counter to national safety. And the article does not invade American sovereignty, they claim, because it leaves to this government the option of accepting or rejecting the council's suggestions.

The sixth exception is taken to Article 19, which provides:

"Article 19.—The assembly may from time to time advise the reconsideration by members of the league of treaties which have become inapplicable, and the consideration of international conditions whose continuance might endanger the peace of the world."

This, critics of the league contend opens the door to constant attempts by foreign nations to upset the Monroe doctrine and to interfere with American affairs. They point out that the league, under this article, would have power to declare that relations between the United States and Mexico threatened the world's peace, and could order either the United States or some European power to step in and change conditions.

This contention is dubbed an absurdity by the league's supporters, who insist the only effect of the Article is to provide a means for readjustments which may become necessary as conditions change.

The seventh and final objection, and, next to Article Ten, the strongest, is leveled at a provision of the treaty proper, outside the league of nations covenant. It is the provision transferring German rights in Shantung peninsula to Japan. The language of this provision is:

"Article 156. Germany renounces, in favor of Japan, all her rights, title and privileges—particularly those concerning the territory of Kiaochow, railways, mines and submarine cables—which she acquired in virtue of the treaty concluded by her with China on March 6, 1898, and of all other arrangements relative to the Province of Shantung."

"All German rights in the Tsingtao-Tsinanfu railway, including all its branch lines, together with its subsidiary property of all kinds—stations, shops, fixed and rolling stock, mines, plant and material for the exploitation of the mines, are and remain acquired by Japan, together with all rights and privileges attached thereto."

"The German state submarine cables from Tsingtao to Chefoo, with all the rights, privileges and properties attaching thereto are similarly acquired by Japan, free and clear of all charges and encumbrances."

"Article 157.—The movable and immovable property owned by the German state in the territory of Kiaochow, as well as all the rights which Germany might claim in consequence of the works or improvements made, or of the expenses incurred by her, directly or indirectly, in connection with this territory are and remain acquired by Japan, free and clear of all charges and encumbrances."

"Article 158.—Germany shall hand over to Japan within three months from the coming into force of the present treaty the archives, registers, plans, title deeds and documents of every kind, wherever they may be, relating to the administration, whether civil, military, financial, judicial or other of the territory of Kiaochow."

"Within the same period, Germany shall give particulars to Japan of all treaties, arrangements or agreements relating to the rights, titles or privileges referred to in the two preceding articles."

This, declare its critics, constitutes a theft from China or territory, stolen from her in 1898 by Germany and puts the United States in the position of underwriting an illegal transfer. They insist that the control of the railroad from Tsingtao to Tsinanfu, a distance of 250 miles directly into the heart of Shantung province, gives Japan a stranglehold on the whole province with its 40,000,000 Chinese.

Administration forces reply variously that the whole province is not affected, but only about one seventh of it; that Japan has agreed to hand it all back to China soon, and that in any event, President Wilson, while not liking the settlement was forced to agree to it by sheer weight of numbers against him.

Annual Attack

"No matter how severe your yearly attack be, no matter how distressing or humiliating—its intensity can be reduced to a harmless, mildness," says a Kentucky druggist who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unconquerable cases reduced to what might be called a mild cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack the unwelcome yearly-visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity.

People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Pour one ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle daily as directed and snuff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

Mentholized Arcline in one ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

An Ordinance, protecting the public health from venereal diseases, defining the duties of physicians, health officers and health officers in connection therewith, restricting diagnosis or treatment by druggists, prohibiting the display of advertisements of venereal diseases in public places, and prescribing penalties.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Rushville, that syphilis, gonorrhea and chancroid, known as the venereal diseases, are hereby declared to be contagious, infectious and communicable and dangerous to the public health.

Sec. 2. Venereal Diseases shall be reported by a physician reasonably suspected of making a diagnosis of, or treating, a case of syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid, and every superintendent or manager of a hospital, dispensary or charitable or penal institution, in which there is a case of venereal disease, shall report such case immediately upon blanks supplied by the State Board of Health, in the manner provided by the rules of the State Board of Health, passed by the Indiana State Board of Health, February 27, 1918, as recorder in the minutes of the meeting of said board, and shall send a copy of the report to said board for state record and action.

Sec. 3. Patients to be Given Information. It shall be the duty of every physician and of every health officer who examines or treats a person having syphilis, gonorrhea or chancroid, to instruct him in measures for preventing the spread of such disease, and inform him of the necessity for treatment until cured, and to hand him a copy of the circular of information obtainable for this purpose from the State Board of Health.

Sec. 4. Investigation of Cases. The city board of health and the city health officer shall use all reasonable means to ascertain the existence of, and to investigate, all cases of syphilis, gonorrhea and chancroid within this city of Rushville, and to ascertain the sources of infection. The city health officer and his deputies are hereby empowered and directed to make such examinations of persons reasonably suspected of having syphilis, gonorrhea or chancroid, as may be necessary for carrying out these regulations: Provided, Patients under the care of physicians and whose cases have been reported shall not be examined or investigated made except upon the request of the attending physician.

Sec. 5. Protection of others from infection by venereally diseased persons. Upon receipt of a report of a case of venereal disease it shall be the duty of the city health officer to institute reasonable measures for the protection of other persons from infection by such venereally diseased person.

(a) The city health officer is empowered and directed to quarantine persons who have, or are reasonably suspected of having, syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid whenever, in his opinion, or in the opinion of the State Health Commissioner, quarantine is necessary for the protection of the public health.

(b) The city health officer shall designate and define the limits of the area in which the person known to have, or reasonably suspected of having, syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid and his immediate attendant are to be quarantined, and no person other than the attending physician shall enter or leave the area of quarantine without the permission of the city health officer.

No one but the city health officer shall terminate said quarantine, and this shall not be done until the diseased person has become non-infectious, as determined by the city health officer or his authorized deputy, through the clinical examination and all the necessary laboratory tests, or until permission has been given him so to do by the State Health Commissioner.

(c) The city health officer shall inform all persons who are about to be released from quarantine for venereal disease, in case they are not cured, what further treatment should be taken to complete their cure. Any person not cured before release from quarantine

A Fertilizer Bargain

MANURE, properly handled, is worth several dollars a ton. It replaces some fertilizers you would otherwise buy and it makes the soil rich in humus.

But to prevent rain from leaching out its nitrogen and potash, its most valuable content, you need a concrete manure pit. With a pit there is practically no loss.

Let us show you plans and give you a cost estimate for a concrete pit that will save the half that now goes to waste in the barnyard. It is a small investment but a big saving.

I hereby agree to report to the health officer within four days after beginning treatment as above agreed, and will bring with me a statement from the physician or clinic of the medical treatment applied in my case, and thereafter will report as often as may be demanded by the health officer.

Sec. 6. It shall be unlawful for drugstore or other persons, unless holding a license to practice medicine, to diagnose, prescribe or recommend medicines for the treatment or cure of aforesaid venereal diseases.

Rheumatism Leaves You Forever.

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed all druggists to guarantee it in every instance. adv.

Little Points Decisive in Successful Canning

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

See that the kitchen is thoroughly clean before starting to can or make jelly. If dust is floating about, mold spores may enter the jars and cause the contents to spoil, according to United States Department of Agriculture specialists.

Select fruit for canning or jelly making just before it is perfectly ripe. Fermentation follows closely upon the perfectly ripe stage. Therefore, it is better to use underripe fruit. It is especially important in jelly making to use underripe fruit because in overripe, the pectin begins to lose its jelly making quality. Pectin is the substance in fruit which causes the jelling of a product made from it.

Fruits and vegetables for preserv-vegetables before paring. Wash berries by putting a small quantity at a time into a colander or sieve and pouring cold water over them.

Prepare only as much of the fruit or vegetable as can be canned while it still retains its color and freshness. Before preparing the product, have the sirup ready to fill the jars, if fruit is being canned, or the brine in case of vegetables. Sirups vary in proportions, to suit individual tastes, from 2 cups of sugar in 4 quarts of water, to 13 cups of sugar in 4 quarts of water. The brine used to fill the jars of vegetables is made from 2½ ounces of salt and 1 gallon of water, except for asparagus, which requires a heavier brine (4 ounces of salt to ing, canning and jelly making, if possible, should be freshly picked. Where it is impossible to use the products immediately, place them where they will keep cool and plump until they can be used. If spread in a thin layer they will keep better.

Before preparing fruits, provide plenty of hot water for boiling jars and sterilizing rubbers and utensils.

Before preparing the fruit of vegetables, start heating water which is to be used for processing the filled cans.

Test jars for leaks. Wash carefully and boil for 15 minutes in sufficient water to cover jars. Leave in hot water until ready to use.

Test rubbers. If they can be folded and pinched without cracking and if a 4-inch section of one can be stretched until it is 2½ times its original length, they are suitable for use. Place in a hot solution of 1 teaspoon of cooking soda and 1 quart of boiling water. Leave the rubbers in the solution until ready to use.

Collect sugar, towels, jelly bag if jelly is being made, and all necessary utensils, before preparing fruits or vegetables.

Wash all large hard fruits or

If practicable pare fruit with a silver knife so as not to stain or darken the product.

Many kinds of peaches may be peeled easily by dropping in boiling water about one minute, or until skins slip easily. The skins of some varieties stick so tenaciously that a lye solution is required to remove them. Use 4 tablespoons of concentrated lye in 4 quarts of boiling water. When skins crack, remove and wash thoroughly in cold water, and slip off the skins. Cut into halves, and pack at once, placing the halves in overlapping layers, pit side down. Get Efficiency From Your Tractor

KEEP it in service constantly. The one best way to do that is to give it all the lubricating oil it will take, providing you select the correct oil.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has produced three oils which will correctly lubricate the entire range of tractors. These are:

Any Standard Oil representative will be glad to show you the chart of Tractor lubrication, prepared by our Engineering Staff. It indicates specifically which of these three oils the Standard Oil Engineers have found will give the best results in your particular tractor.

We have just published a 100-page book, "Tractors and Tractor Lubrication," prepared by our Engineering Staff, which you will find a valuable reference book, and we believe it will save you many days of tractor idleness with the resultant money loss.

getable to within ½ inch of top.

Do not stop to count the time required for processing until the water is bubbling after the jars are put in or if a steam pressure canner is used until live steam is escaping from the petcock.

An alarm clock which can be set to go off at the end of the time needed for processing is a convenience in the kitchen during the canning season.

When jars are removed after processing, make sure the cover is tight and that they are put to cool in a place where no draft reaches them as a draft is very likely to cause breakage. Turn jars upside down while cooling as a test for leakage, except the vacuum type, and leave in that position until cold.

MEXICAN LABORERS LOSE JOBS FOR $8

Must Pay That Much Tax to Come Into the United States to Get Employment.

CAUSES SHORTAGE OF MEN

Laredo, Tex., Aug. 7.—Inability to secure $8 is keeping many Mexican laborers from jobs that literally are before their eyes—and incidentally causing a farm labor shortage on the ranches of the Rio Grande Valley, that is worst in years.

Since passage of the draft laws, when thousands of Mexican laborers left the United States for Mexico to avoid military service, cheap labor has been at a premium throughout the Texas cotton belt and in truck farms and construction camps.

With the war over, employers immediately took steps to secure return of the Mexicans, but the United States Immigration Service refused to lift its ban. An $8 head tax is the first and most serious problem confronting the Mexican who wants to come back to his old job in American. Eight dollars to the average Mexican laborer, in Mexico, is as much as eight thousand. He hasn't that much and there is no way to get it.

After seven years continuous service in the regular army on the Mexican border and in France, where he participated in all of the important engagements after America entered the war, and was three times wounded, Robert Dyer, Jr., has returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dyer, Sr., 8 East Eighth street in Rushville. Dyer was in the first American unit to sail for France and was gaged with the first American troops who ever faced the Hunns. He went from June, 1913 to 1917 on the Mexican border where he participated in several local engagements including Villa's notorious raid on Columbus, New Mexico, which was the Mexican bandit's Waterloo, and fought across the border from Douglas, Arizona, with the American expedition which was sent into Mexico after Villa and returned empty-handed.

Dyer has three decorations and signals to show for his reward. He is awarded the Division Medal of Honor of the French Foreign Legion during the battle around Soissons July 18, 1918, which was officially known as the Aisne-Marne counter offensive. The First and Second U. S. divisions and the French Foreign Legion, known as the best of the allied shock troops, were in this engagement, Dyer says. NEW DATE BELIEVED FACTOR.

All guarantors of the Rush County Chautauqua association, who have tickets left, are asked to take them to F. E. Wolcott, treasurer of the association, by Friday night and they will be disposed of because it is believed that the demand far in excess of the supply of guarantors' tickets. Twelve hundred guarantors' tickets were issued this year, not counting children's season tickets and school teachers' tickets.

Forty-five tickets were sold at Hargrove and Mullin's drug store yesterday, having been taken there by guarantors, and an equally large number were disposed of at Wolcott's drug store. There were four half season tickets left this morning at Wolcott's and none at Hargrove and Mullin's.

The demand for guarantors' tickets forecasts the best attendance in the history of the chautauqua and confirms the opinion of the directors who set the date of the assembly a week later this year because they believed more people would have an opportunity to attend. In past years many farmers had not finished harvesting the first week in August formerly the date of the chautauqua.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Destruction of the existing political structure is foreseen by some politicians in congress, if American labor goes through with its plans in the 1920 election to take their demands to the people for nationalization of the railroads.

HUNT FOR PROFITEERS IS ON

Begin Search For Price Gougers
—Stocks of Food Greater

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 7.—President Wilson will confer late today with the committee of cabinet members and other high government officials to draw up recommendations on which he is basing his food price message to congress.

Although the purpose of the conference has not been announced, it is believed Wilson intends to read to these officials the plan he will present to congress at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

The president apparently may be delayed by the absence of a quorum in the house.

Calls have been sent to about 250 members but there is a possibility that a roll call will be taken and half of the members will be vacationing.

An army of more than 1,000 agents and employees of the department of justice today plunged into a nation wide hunt for evidence to gain wholesale convictions of food profiteers and price gougers.

Spreading over every section of the United States, this force of investigators began work under orders of 200 federal attorneys.

United States marshals and deputies will help. Attorney General Palmer will keep in personal touch with the situation. He was in his office today directing the work.

"I ordered everything else side-tracked," he said. The first arrests are expected in a few days, it was said at Palmer's office today.

With prices generally higher, stocks of food in storage this year are much greater than any other year, the federal trade commission reported today.

The commission charged that apparently these stocks are being held for still higher prices.

TWO STATE CASES
NOLLIED IN COURTCharges Against Flora Sutton For Bigamy and Harold Grant Taken
Off Docket

LACK OF EVIDENCE IS CAUSE

Mrs. Magdeline Rosencrance is Restored to Sanity on Petition of
Her Daughter

There was nothing of much importance going on today in court, but several minor cases were taken care of yesterday afternoon, thus making more room for the regular term of court which starts in September.

This morning the petition of Mary Rosencrance asking that her mother, Mrs. Magdeline Rosencrance, be restored to sanity, was sustained, and the court adjudged Mrs. Rosencrance a person of sound mind, and capable of taking care of her own business. Channey Duncan represented the petitioner.

The case of the state against Flora Sutton was nollied yesterday afternoon. The state filed a charge of bigamy against Mrs. Sutton, and it was nollied by the court on a motion of the prosecuting attorney for lack of evidence.

Another case set for yesterday afternoon was nollied for the same reason, it being the case of the state against Harold Grant, on a charge of evading payment of a boarding house bill.

This morning, Mrs. Zadie L. Clark through her attorney, John Tittsworth, filed a complaint against Alvin Clark, asking that the allowance which he has been paying for the support of their children, be increased. They were divorced September 20, 1917, and the court allowed Mrs. Clark $5 a week as support money for their three children, and this order was later modified on account of his sickness, and was cut to only $3.00 a week. She complains now that he is a well man, is making more money, and can easily afford to pay more, especially as the price of food, clothing and living necessities have advanced so much in the last year, and that it is only just that he pay more money. The case has been set for a hearing at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

SAYS ROADS WILL BE
BLOCKED IN 3 DAYSPresident of Council Directing the Strike of Shopmen in Middle
West Makes Prediction.

STRIKERS ASKED TO RETURN

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Practically all railroads of the middle west had in effect today orders to accept freight "subject to delay" on account of the strike of railway shopmen. The strike of the shopmen continued to spread, and M. L. Hawer, president of the council directing the strike in the middle west, said that "traffic would be discontinued in three days."

R. H. Ashton, regional director of railroads for the northwest issued the following statement regarding the conditions governing freight:

"Beginning immediately and continuing until further notice all freight of every description in carload lots will be accepted as subject to delay on account of the strike. All bills of lading must be indorsed: 'This freight accepted subject to delay on account of strike.'"

Representatives of the shopmen employed on the Michigan Central railroads between Chicago and Buffalo, at a meeting in Jackson, Mich., adopted resolutions supporting the officers of the international union.

BOY GIVEN 60 DAYS
IN THE PENAL FARMJake Osborn Also Fined $25 When Found Guilty by Mayor, For
Throwing Rock at Girl

APPEALS TO CIRCUIT COURT

Other Boys in Crowd Who Followed
Two Couples Last Saturday
Night Allowed to go Free

Jake Osborn, 613 West First street, was found guilty yesterday afternoon in police court, of assault and battery, on Miss Irene Maple, and was fined by Mayor Irvin, $25 and costs and 60 days at the penal farm. Osborn, through his attorney, Will Newbold, took an appeal, and his bond was placed at $100, which was provided.

Osborn was arraigned together with Ray Foster, Wilson Sailor, Charley Barnes and one or two other young men, on the above charges, and all pleaded not guilty. The evidence disclosed the fact that two young women, Irene and Violet Maple, were in company with Clarence Carpenter and Fred Hite on last Saturday night and were walking toward the Maple home, corner of Tenth and Arthur streets, about midnight, and these young men were following them, singing songs "not nice to be repeated."

At one place a rock was thrown and struck Irene Maple, but she was unable to state who it was that threw it. She said, however, that it must have come from the "bunch which was following." It was on this charge that Osborn was fined, and the remaining boys were allowed to go, with a suspended sentence.

In giving his decision, Mayor Irvin said that the boys did not have any business following the two couples, and that they were evidently intent on doing something wrong. The fact that the Osborn boy had been in court on other charges, was given by the mayor as the reason for the stiff fine and sentence for this alleged offense.

EMBARGOES PUT ON PERISHABLE FREIGHTMany Indianapolis Railroads Not Accepting Live Stock For Ship-
ment—Orders Come Here

FREIGHTS FEW AND SHORT

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 7.—Embargoes on live stock and perishable freight was put into effect out of Indianapolis today by some railroads while others plan an absolute embargo on freight because of the strike of shopmen.

The C. I. & W. will not accept live stock and perishables. The Chesapeake and Ohio took similar action. The Pennsylvania will not guarantee shipment east of Columbus, Ohio. Every shop in Indianapolis is closed.

Rushville has already felt the shopmen's walkout and today trains were short in length and far between. J. M. Higgins, joint freight agent for the C. I. & W. and the Pennsylvania Lines, said that he had received orders from the C. I. & W. not to accept freight shipments for points west of Indianapolis, and that probably in a day or so, no freight could be accepted at all.

Mr. Higgins said that he had received a telegram asking for the number of freight shipments of the perishable freight, but had four filled cars, which will probably be picked up at once and started on their trip. The Pennsylvania Lines were not accepting freight, except to points on this division, and no further east than Columbus, O.

EXPLAINS RAILROAD BILL

Glenn E. Plumb Appears in Behalf
of Measure He Prepared

Washington, Aug. 7.—Glenn E. Plumb, attorney for the railway trainmen brotherhoods and author of the Plumb plan for public ownership of the railroads, appeared today before the house interstate commerce committee, and explained in detail his proposed plan for operating the roads. The Plumb plan has been incorporated in the Sims bill, which the railroad men are urging before the committee.

Mr. Sims has explained that he introduced the bill by request, as he would any other bill.

BRINGS BIG SUM
AT AUCTION SALESarah E. Ball's Farm of Over 161
Acres, With Scarcely Any Buildings, Sells for $31,672.50.

AUCTIONED IN TWO PARTS

One Goes to Mrs. Margaret Glendenning for $192.50 and Other to
Irvin Price for $201.

The Sarah E. Ball farm, which was sold yesterday at auction in two parts, brought a good price. The south section consisting of 81 and a fraction acres was purchased by Mrs. Margaret Glendenning, and the north section consisting of 80 and a fraction acres, was sold to Irvin Price. The entire consideration amounted to $31,672.50.

The south section, purchased by Mrs. Glendenning was bid off at $192.50 per acre, and the north section sold for $201 per acre to Mr. Price. The farm lies 7 miles north-west of Rushville, and is known as the old Cyrus Ball homestead.

The price obtained for the above farm is considered very good, as there are practically no buildings on it, but the farm land itself is very valuable.

The selling of farms by auction is practically a new idea, and has been tried here on only a few occasions before. The auction was extensively advertised throughout Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, and bidders were here from many places. "Dusty" Miller, the auctioneer, remarked that he had never before seen such a crowd at a land sale, and that there were enough bidders present to sell a hundred such farms, or that the crowd equalled in size to any which would attend a public sale of $100,000 worth of personal property.

BOLT HITS "GAS" TANK

WOUNDED SOLDIER DROWNS

Shelbyville, Ind., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Nora Bennett of Morristown, Shelby county, has received word of the death, by drowning, of her brother, Private Charles F. Rinehart. The soldier, who had been gassed and wounded during the war, had been sent to a hospital near Flagstaff, Arizona.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Extra precautions were taken to keep order about the stockyards today with the return of many of the 15,000 negro employees engaged there before the race riots of last week. Large contingents of soldiers and deputy sheriffs patrolled Thirty-fifth, Forty-seventh and Halsted streets, while 500 policemen were stationed inside the yards.

NEW HUNGARIAN
PREMIER OUSTEDPolice Execute Coup D'Etat, Arresting Members of Cabinet While in Official Session.

PEACE CONFERENCE REPORT

Says Arch Duke Joseph Has Established Government—No Disorder
Accompanies Overthrow.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Aug. 7.—A Vienna correspondent of a German paper, reported today that a counter revolutionary government had offered the Hungarian crown to King Ferdinand of Roumania.

Paris, Aug. 7.—Julius Peidl, premier of the new Hungarian government, has been overthrown, the peace conference was advised to day.

The report stated that Arch Duke Joseph had established a government.

The coup d'etat by which Peidl was overthrown, was carried out by the Hungarian police, it was said. There were no disorders. The police arrested members of the cabinet while holding an official session.

It was held by the peace conference today that the Roumanian ultimatum to the Hungarians, demanding surrender of materials, upsets the reparation terms of the Austrian treaty.

French division in the Orient, it was learned today, may be ordered to Budapest in case Roumanian forces do not leave, if ordered by the allies.

Some American troops and minor detachments of French, British and Roumanians are now occupying Budapest jointly with the Roumanians, advice to the peace conference stated today.

The peace conference received advice today that the Hungarian Soviet democrats (represented by the Peidl ministry) has appealed to the allies not to permit the Roumanian occupation and establishment of a reactionary government.

Roumanians were reported today to be pillaging Budapest. This action had been taken after Roumania notified Hungary that in as much as the Austrian terms had not been accepted, Roumanian forces would cross the Danube.

SAYS PACKERS ARE TO BE INVESTIGATEDUnited States District Attorney
Declares Grand Jury Will Meet
in Chicago Soon

DENIAL SWIFT IS IN BIG 5

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 7.—Evidence against the packers will be presented to the grand jury in Chicago, which meets in three weeks, United States District Attorney Clyne of Chicago said here today.

Appearing before the senate subcommittee of the District of Columbia, investigating the high cost of living, L. Weld of Swift and company today denied that the Swift concern is a member of the alleged big five packers combination.

"I want to say," he said, "that Swift and company is in keen competition with all other packers that it is impossible to lower the price of meat in any way. Furthermore, no legislation or government interference with packing industries could possibly reduce the price of meat. Rather, such interference would increase operating cost and hence raise prices."

THRICE WOUNDED WHILE OVERSEAS

soldier. The palm leaf indicates bravery of the individual cited. Dyer's was awarded in October, 1917, during the Baecarat defensive action.

Dyer also has the insignia of the Allied Victory Medal which is given to all troops in the war, providing they arrived overseas before the armistice was signed. The medal will have bars attached with the names of each major action in which the wearer was engaged. Due to the haste in demobilizing the army, the medals were not distributed, but home-going troops were provided with the insignia and given authority to attach a broche star.

Dyer also has an insignia to show he served on the border. There are three different badges issued by authority of congress, one for national guardsmen, one for regular army men and another to show service in interior Mexico.

Dyer likewise wears an American Army Qualification Medal, which he won in April, 1917. He is rated as a first expert, which entitles him to $5 extra pay each month.

On June 2, 1917, Dyer's organization, the Eighteenth Infantry, entrained at Douglas for a continuous trip to France by way of Hoboken, New Jersey and St. Nazaire, France. After twenty-one days on the water dodging submarines, this outfit, the first American unit to sail, landed in France. The Eighteenth was subjected to three and a half months intensive training in preparation for the front line trenches and during October, of 1917, together with the Sixteenth Infantry, entered the trenches in what was known as the Baecarat sector. His regiment was wholly equipped for overseas service by the French and British governments, Dyer says.

The American Expeditionary Forces suffered their first casualties when these two regiment went into battle. The brigade was relieved and given a short rest in the training area, and then re-entered the front line trenches in the Toul sector. Dyer suffered his first wound in this sector when two pieces of shrapnel lodged in his right leg.

The Rushville boy was ready for the front line again after being treated in the hospital at Toul for a month and a half and was transferred to the Montdidier sector in Picardy where the allied general staff tried out the mettle of the American forces before using them in larger and more important battles.

While in the Picardy sector, Dyer suffered the second wound when he was gassed. The brigade was in the vicinity of Montdidier ninety-seven days before being relieved, and then following only two days in rest billets, was rushed to the Soissons front where, on the morning of the memorable day, July 18, 1918, the First American division, with the help of the Second division and the French Foreign Legion, started the Germans on the retreat which ended in unconditional surrender.

In this engagement Dyer was again wounded. Two fragments of aerial bomb entered his side, lodging on each side of his heart. Dyer still carries these "souvenirs" of the war. The third wound put Dyer in the hospital for two months and he recovered in time to get into the famous St. Mihiel drive, in which American divisions completely wiped out a dangerous enemy salient in two days.

Dyer's outfit was transferred to the Saisereux sector and October 1 to the Argonne operations, termed the bloodiest engagement of the war. He was in this battle until the armistice was signed November 11. On May 10, 1919, after spending the intervening months in convalescent

Catarrh Specialist Coming to Rushville

WILL GIVE FREE EXAMINATION AND ADVICE

Medical Director of Indiana Catarrh Institute to Give Talk on Catarrh and Tuberculosis.

Chronic catarrh of the nose, throat and lungs is so prevalent and is so often the forerunner of fatal diseases like tuberculosis, influenza, asthma, hay fever and others that the Indiana Catarrh Institute, permanently located at 1436 North Illinois street, Indianapolis, Ind., is sending their medical director to a few points in Indiana to examine and advise sufferers from this disease on how to prevent or cure it.

Catarrh, besides being extremely disagreeable and annoying, with its continual coughing, hawking and spitting, is positively dangerous, as it leads to many fatal diseases and undermines the strength and health of the whole system. It is a stubborn disease to cure, requiring the skill of an expert and experienced specialist to properly rid the system of it in a short time. It is very seldom, if ever, cured by patent medicines, mail order treatment, home remedies and the like.

The Indiana Catarrh Institute is a large institute, devoted entirely and exclusively to the treatment of catarrh. It has a staff of specialists who have devoted more than sixteen years to the study of this one disease.

There is no other institution like it in this country and their methods used in curing catarrh are different from any other in this country. Their methods can be used either in the Institute or in the home, according to patient's convenience. Anyone visiting Indianapolis is invited to call at the Institute and investigate their methods and results. But for convenience, it is well to see the Medical director, an expert specialist, when he is in this city.

His examination, consultation and advice is free. He invites everyone who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose, throat or lungs, chronic cough and bronchitis, dropping mucus in the throat, pains in the chest, shortness of breath, clogged up head and nostrils, head noise, catarrhal deafness, hawking and spitting, or any chronic catarrhal condition, to be examined and get his advice without charge or obligation. He will be glad to talk with you, giving you the benefit of his skill and experience freely.

Beware of tuberculosis and other fatal conditions by taking treatment in time.

The specialist will be at the Hotel Scanlan Wednesday, August 13th, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., one day only, and will examine all who call to see him.

For further information either call in person or write The Indiana Catarrh Institute, 1436 N. Illinois St., Indianapolis, Ind.—Adv.

camp, Dyer was sent with his outfit, on May 10, to the extreme bridgehead of the American Army of Occupation. Remaining there until June 22, he was ordered to the United States as a casual. When he landed on American soil, Dyer received his first furlough during seven years of continuous field service.

"And I'm glad to be home," remarked Dyer fervently after he finished telling his story.

DODGE BROTHERS BUSINESS CAR

The Good Will of an Army

Soldiers grow to love the tools, weapons and implements that serve them.

They admire especially the inanimate thing that shows grit and endurance in a tight place.

That is American—and that is the American Soldier in particular and that is the sort of glory woven around Dodge Bros. motor car in the World War. There will always be associated with it the remembrance of the work it did—in army service on both sides of the ocean.

"PRISONERS" DON'T COMPLAIN

The interdenominational evangelistic campaign being held at the Salvation Army church continues in full swing and good crowds are attending every night.

"In the nine drives fourteen persons have been captured and the enemy has reported a number of wounded in the field," said Capt. Tench today.

"Everything points to a great advance movement at any time. Of the fourteen persons captured, none is complaining about ill use, but all of them say that they are glad to be in active service for Christ."

The meeting will be held tonight in the Glory Room at 7:30 o'clock and at 8 p. m. in the big room. All are cordially invited to attend.

GIVES BOND AND WILL SETTLE WITH THE BANK

John A. Spurrier is Accused of Issuing Fraudulent Check by Gwynneville State Bank

COMES AS SURPRISE TO HIM

John A. Spurrier, local piano dealer, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by the Shelby county sheriff and his deputy, on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check and was taken to that city to answer the charge which was contained in an affidavit filed by the Gwynneville State bank, alleging that Mr. Spurrier had issued a check in the bank's possession to the amount of $110. The check was drawn on the Farmer's National Bank at Wilkinson, and was made payable to the Gwynneville bank, bearing the date of November 29, 1918.

Mr. Spurrier came home from Shelbyville last night, having given bond, and will settle the account with the bank. He stated this morning that the action surprised him considerably, as he knew that the check was out, and supposed that the bank would wait for a time, as he had a deal on which would reimburse his funds at the bank. Mr. Spurrier stated this morning that he had often had checks out, without funds, and the bank had waited.

Too Much Whitewash

The incarceration of Lieutenant "Hardboiled" Smith in a military prison for his infamous treatment of prisoners on the prison farm near Paris, while the colonel in command escaped punishment, is but another item which confirms the public in the belief that the little culprit in our army gets soaked while the culprit higher up is white-washed and allowed to go free.

It is disgusting. It is more, it is a crime against justice in the army of the United States.

It lends additional strength to the growing belief that there was something radically wrong in the administration of the A. E. F.

It is a well established fact that when a commander is without due regard for law and justice and humanity himself, he can only expect that his subordinates will take their cue from him. Was this so in the case of "Hardboiled" Smith? Was it possible that he could subject his prisoners to such inhuman treatment without his immediate command being cognizant of the fact? And was it possible for such things to occur in the A. E. F. without other officers still higher up having a knowledge of conditions?

The inspector who investigated the case of Smith recommended that the colonel also be tried by court martial. Yet the colonel appears to have had sufficient pull to render him immune.

It is even charged that in a military prison in Paris, American officers, even some of high rank, were chained like wild beasts.

We have had much to say about the cruelty and inhumanity of the Hun. But judging from reports that are being made public regarding the A. E. F. we would do well to clean our own house before we criticize others.

Our dear friends in Washington wonder why our fathers and mothers do not care to have their sons serve in the army, but if they will open their eyes to the facts as they exist there will be no occasion whatever for wonderment. The facts are too painfully evident.

Our country is facing a grave crisis in the public unrest, and one which will call for every ounce of loyalty on the part of its citizenship. But we can not expect that loyalty unless justice prevails. When the public loses confidence in its army officials we are approaching dangerously near to the point of disintegration.

For the good of our country let us have a full and thorough investigation of these charges.

Ten Judges Find 2.75 Beer Legal

It is reported that a survey of the findings of courts throughout the country concerning 2.75 per cent. beer has been made by the anti-war-time prohibition forces and according to their report, a preponderance of legal sentiment is against the jailing of a citizen for the sale of 2.75 per cent. beer. Only one Judge, the report says, has decided that such beer is illegal. Part of the report reads as follows:

"Fourteen United States judges have dealt with this question. Ten of them have held that the statute does not forbid non-intoxicating beer. One Judge has held that the statute does forbid non-intoxicating beer, anything which is called beer must be assumed to be intoxicating. The remaining Judges have rendered

THE GREATEST REMEDY ON EARTH—ACID IRON MINERAL.

Millions of people suffer year after year from ailments affecting practically every part of the body, never dreaming that their ill health can be traced directly to acid-stomach. Here is the reason: poor digestion means poor nourishment of the different organs and tissues of the body. The blood is impoverished — becomes weak, thin, sluggish. Ailments of many kinds spring from such conditions. Biliousness, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, general weakness, loss of power and energy, headache, insomnia, nervousness, mental depression—even more serious ailments, such as catarrh and cancer of the stomach, intestinal ulcers, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble—all of these can often be traced directly to acid-stomach.

Keep a sharp lookout for the first symptom of acid-stomach—indigestion, heartburn, belching, food repelling, that awful painful bloated after eating, and sour, gassy stomach. ACID IRON MINERAL, the wonderful modern remedy for acid-stomach, is guaranteed to bring quick relief from these stomach miseries. Thousands say they never dreamed that anything could bring such speedy relief—and make them feel so much better in every way. Try ACID IRON MINERAL and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Make your life worth living—no aches or pains—no blues or melancholy—no more of that tired, listless feeling. Be well and strong. Get back your physical and mental punch, your vim, vigor and vitality. You will always be weak and ailing as long as you have acid-stomach. So get rid of it now by taking ACID IRON MINERAL. Also call for A I M Pills and take one every night until stomach, kidneys and liver are relieved.

New and Bright Yarns That Will Tickle You and Will be Relished by Your Friends When You Repeat Them.

The freight conductor, an officious person, spied a noticeably husky tramp riding the bumpers and in sign language motioned to a negro brakeman to "Give him the razz." There was a sudden flurry. The negro tottered backwards vigorously kicked in the jaw. As he ambled up to the freight conductor he said:

"Boss, Ah jess couldn't put him off. He said he was youah cousin." "My what?" boarded the conductor. "I never had no cousin. Watch me, Kid!" Exactly what happened will never be known, but the conductor was hurled through space and lay in a gully off the railroad with his face buried in the cinders. He finally sat up, blew cinders out of his bruised face and yelled to the astonished brakeman:

"He was me cousin, all right." (Submitted by Miss Mae Ammons, 2117 South Street, Huston, Texas.)

Instead of showing the picture tonight at the Princess of "For Better, for Worse," the management has substituted Henry Walthall in "False Faces," a picture adapted from the book written by Louis Joseph Vance, and is said to be an exceptionally good play, dealing with mystery, romance and adventure. Saturday's program promises to be good, as May Allison will be seen in "Peggy Does Her Darndest."

Elmo Lincoln at Mystic.

Episode Two of Elmo Lincoln's great serial, "Elmo the Mighty", will be shown at the Mystic Theatre today. This continues the fast pace set in the opening episode.

The famous star of the "Tarzan" pictures is riding to the rescue of his sweetheart, Lucille Gray, who has been abducted by the villains. The mystery action is heightened, and after many thrilling adventures, Elmo, after rescuing Lucille, is himself cornered by the timber swindlers, along with the girl. Both take refuge in an abandoned mine, which is blown up by the villains, entombing Elmo and the girl. "Buried Alive" is the title of this episode.

The story of Priscilla Dean's rise to stardom reads like an up-to-date novel by Horatio Alger, Jr., with a girl as the principal character—if such a piece of literature can be imagined.

The star of "The Exquisite Thief", the Universal Special Attraction, which will be shown Friday at the Mystic Theatre, owes her rise to hard work and persistence.

Miss Dean was born twenty years ago in New York of Irish parentage. Her mother was an actress, and Priscilla made her debut at the age of four, in Joseph Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle" company. After touring the country, as a child actress, in Ben Greet's Shakespearean company, Miss Dean attended convent school, but at fourteen returned to the stage in support of James Hearne in "Hearts of Oak."

It was a few years later that she decided to go into pictures. Not being invited to go at a large salary, she went anyway, and took what she could get. That was an extra's precarious and intermittent wage with the old Vogue company.

After a short time in the East Miss Dean joined the migration to California, and eventually wound up at the Universal lot. She was still a long way from being a star, and was appearing in minor parts in comedies. But the Horatio Alger tactics resolutely applied lifted her

Dwight Moore, 17, Seriously Injured While Cleaning Revolver

While engaged in cleaning a .38 calibre, hammerless revolver, yesterday afternoon, Dwight Moore, son of William Moore, suffered a badly injured left hand, when the revolver exploded. The bullet pierced the palm of his hand, going clear through without touching a bone. Due to this fact no serious complication are expected. Moore is about 17 years old and was at his home in North Oliver street at the time of the accident. He received medical attention, and aside from powder burns, the wound will heal rapidly.

PLANT LATE CROPS NOW
TO GET MOST OFF GARDEN

Too many gardeners have the habit of haying by their gardens in July and allowing the plot to grow weeds for the remainder of the season. There are many things that may be planted at this time that will produce good crops before freezing weather. The early vegetables help to keep the table supplied with good food during the summer but it is the late crops that are of greatest value to store during the winter or to can when cooler days make the kitchen work less arduous.

Root crops should be planted by all means for fall use and winter storage. Short season varieties of beets and carrots as well as winter radishes, may be sown now and the first of August fall turnips should be planted in any vacant place available, according to C. R. Mason of Purdue University.

A final planting of bush snap beans now should be made, using such quick maturing stringless varieties as "stringless green pod." For best quality the pods should be picked when young and tender. Planted now, beans should be obtained from the middle of September or before, until the vines are killed by frost.

It is rather late to plant sweet corn, but the gardener runs a chance of securing well filled ears for the table before frost if weather conditions are favorable and an early variety, such as Golden Bantam is used. See of Endive and Petai or Chinese Cabbage for fall salads should be sown now while leaf let-

7 PROVISIONS OF TREATY ATTACKED

Discussion of These Points Which Must Stand the Brunt of Attack
by Senators.

EACH ARTICLE EXPLAINED

Article Ten of the Provisions is the
Chief One Which Meets Most Disapproval.

By L. C. MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 7.—Seven provisions of the peace treaty must stand the brunt of the attack by senators who demand reservations and amendments as the price of their vote for ratification.

Chief among these provisions is Article Ten of the League of Nations covenant. The text of this clause follows:

"Article 10.—The Members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all Members of the League. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the Council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

Those demanding elimination of Article Ten, or at least a reservation by the United States respecting it, declare that the article obligates the United States, under the advice of the League council, to join in wars everywhere for preservation of the existing boundaries and stability of present governments. They declare it binds the United States to make war at the order of a body composed of eight foreigners and one American, and that this clearly is an attempt to rob congress of its constitutional power of declaring and waging war.

Those defending the article insist that the obligation incurred is not a legal one, but merely one of honor; that the United States need not accept and act on the advice of the council unless it feels that course is proper; that the article, while obligating this government to respect the territory and independence of all other powers, also obligates each of them to respect the United States' territorial integrity and political independence.

The next provision is that referring to the Monroe Doctrine. It reads:

"Article 21.—Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the maintenance of peace."

This article does not protect the Monroe doctrine as an American policy, many senators declare, because it does not properly define the doctrine. They assert that the Monroe doctrine is not a regional understanding but a distinctly American foreign policy. They want a reservation to the effect that nothing in the treaty shall be construed to imply a relinquishment by the United States of its traditional attitude toward purely American questions, or to require the submission of its policy regarding what it deems to be purely American questions to the decision or recommendation of other powers.

Administration senators reply that Article 21 is in fact a recognition for the first time by the great world powers of the Monroe doctrine and that the League Covenant itself in effect extends the principles of that doctrine to the whole world.

The third provision against which objection is made is that relating to domestic questions. In this case, it is an alleged conflict of two provisions which has caused the demand for amendment or reservation. These two provisions follow:

"Article 11.—Any war or threat of war, whether immediately affecting any of the members of the League or not, is hereby declared to be a matter of concern to the whole League, and the League shall take such action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations. It is also declared to be the friendly right of each member of the League to bring to the attention of the Assembly or the council any circumstances whatever affecting international relations which threatens to disturb international peace or the good understanding between nations on which peace depends."

"Article 15 (paragraph eight).—If the dispute between the parties is claimed by one of them and is found by the council to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the Council shall so report, and shall make no recommendation as to its settlement."

Those demanding a reservation

making plain the refusal of the United States to admit that the League has jurisdiction over domestic questions like immigration, the tariff and regulation of coastwise trading, declare that Article Eleven authorizes the League to take jurisdiction. They point to the language "any war or threat of war", and "any circumstances, whatever affecting international relations," in proof of their contention. They insist that the quoted paragraph of Article 15 does not prevent the League taking jurisdiction, if war is threatened by a dispute over a question which lies purely within the domestic jurisdiction of one party, but to the handling of which under such jurisdiction, the other party seriously objects. The immigration question is cited as an example. While recognized by some international law experts as purely domestic, immigration is held by others to have an international aspect.

League supporters, however, insist that the definite provision of Article 15 absolutely shuts out of consideration any domestic question, and leaves it for settlement between the two nations.

The fourth provision upon which a reservation is demanded is that covering withdrawal from the League. Its text follows:

"Article 1 (paragraph 3).—Any member of the League may, after two years notice of its intention to do so, withdraw from the League, provided that all its international obligations and all its obligations under the covenant shall have been fulfilled at the time of its withdrawal."

The criticism here is that the provision allows the League—that is, foreign nations—to decide, in the case of the United States, whether this government has fulfilled its obligations. The demand is that the right of the United States to be the judge of its own obligations and the fulfillment of them be recognized.

The reply made to this criticism is that the provision applies not only to the United States, but to every nation in the League, and that what is fair for one is fair for all.

Disarmament, as provided for in Article Eight of the Covenant is another section causing dissatisfaction, and a demand for a reservation. This provision reads:

"Article 8.—The members of the League recognize that the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations."

"The Council, taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each state, shall formulate plans for such reduction for the consideration and action of the several governments."

"Such plans shall be subject to reconsideration and revision at least every ten years."

"After these plans shall have been adopted by the several governments, the limits of armaments therein fixed shall not be exceeded without the concurrence of the council."

"The members of the League agree that the manufacture by private enterprise of munitions and implements of war is open to grave objections. The council shall advise how the evil effects attendant upon such manufacture can be prevented due regard being had to the necessities of those members of the league which are not able, to manufacture the munitions and implements of war necessary for their safety."

"The members of the league undertake to interchange full and frank information as to the scale of their armaments, their military, naval and air programs and the condition of such of their industries as are adaptable to war like purposes."

The criticism directed against this article is that while it discusses disarmament, it does not really provide for it. The fact that the council's function is merely that of drawing

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was no remedy for their case.

Go to your druggist and get an original bottle of Miro Pile Remedy, the discovery of a clever Ohio chemist, that taken internally passes unchanged through the stomach and intestines, and thus reaches the source of the trouble, where by its soothing, healing antiseptic action, it first allays and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two or three days, even in cases that have resisted all previously known treatments really wonderful results have been accomplished. It is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it is worth the little trouble to obtain to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.—(Adv.)

up and submitting a plan, which may be rejected by any government, is held by league critics to be a fatal defect in any plan designed effectively to disarm nations.

Another criticism is that if the United States accepts this article, it will bind itself to accept the orders of the council, made up of one American and eight foreigners, as to the size of the American army and navy.

But the league's supporters contend that Article Eight goes as far towards disarmament as the league could go, and that nations entering the league in good faith will make the article effective by agreeing to the council's suggestions, unless they clearly run counter to national safety. And the article does not invade American sovereignty, they claim, because it leaves to this government the option of accepting or rejecting the council's suggestions.

The sixth exception is taken to Article 19, which provides:

"Article 19.—The assembly may from time to time advise the reconsideration by members of the league of treaties which have become inapplicable, and the consideration of international conditions whose continuance might endanger the peace of the world."

This, critics of the league contend, opens the door to constant attempts by foreign nations to upset the Monroe doctrine and to interfere with American affairs. They point out that the league, under this article, would have power to declare that relations between the United States and Mexico threatened the world's peace, and could order either the United States or some European power to step in and change conditions.

This contention is dubbed an absurdity by the league's supporters, who insist the only effect of the article is to provide a means for readjustments which may become necessary as conditions change.

The seventh and final objection, and, next to Article Ten, the strongest, is leveled at a provision of the treaty proper, outside the league of nations covenant. It is the provision transferring German rights in Shantung peninsula to Japan. The language of this provision is:

"Article 156.—Germany renounces, in favor of Japan, all her rights, title and privileges—particularly those concerning the territory of Kiaochow, railways, mines and submarine cables—which she acquired in virtue of the treaty concluded by her with China on March 6, 1898, and of all other arrangements relative to the Province of Shantung."

"All German rights in the Tsingtau-Tsinanfu railway, including all its branch lines, together with its subsidiary property of all kinds—stations, shops, fixed and rolling stock, mines, plant and material for the exploitation of the mines, are and remain acquired by Japan, together with all rights and privileges attached thereto."

"The German state submarine cables from Tsingtau to Chefoo, with all the rights, privileges and properties attaching thereto are similarly acquired by Japan, free and clear of all charges and encumbrances."

"Article 157.—The movable and immovable property owned by the German state in the territory of Kiaochow, as well as all the rights which Germany might claim in consequence of the works or improvements made, or of the expenses incurred by her, directly or indirectly, in connection with this territory are and remain acquired by Japan, free and clear of all charges and encumbrances."

"Article 158.—Germany shall hand over to Japan within three months from the coming into force of the present treaty the archives, registers, plans, title deeds and documents of every kind, wherever they may be, relating to the administration, whether civil, military, financial, judicial or other of the territory of Kiaochow."

"Within the same period, Germany shall give particulars to Japan of all treaties, arrangements or agreements relating to the rights, titles or privileges referred to in the two preceding articles."

This, declare its critics, constitutes a theft from China or territory

Annual Attack

"No matter how severe your yearly attack be,
No matter how distressing or humiliating—
Its intensity can be reduced to a harmless, mildness."

says a Kentucky druggist who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unconquerable cases reduced to what might be called a mild cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack the unwelcome yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity.

People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Pour one ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle daily as directed and snuff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

Mentholized Arcine in one ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

HEALTH ORDINANCE

An Ordinance, protecting the public health from venereal diseases, defining the duties of physicians, householders and health officers in connection therewith, restricting diagnosis or treatment by druggists, prohibiting the display of advertisements for venereal diseases in public places, and prescribing penalties.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Rushville, that any physician, gonorrhea and chancroid, are hereby declared to be contagious, infectious and communicable and dangerous to the public health.

Section 2. Any physician or other person who makes a diagnosis of, or treats, a case of syphilis, gonorrhea, or chancroid, and every superintendent or manager of a house of prostitution or charitable or penal institution, in which there is a case of venereal disease, shall report such case immediately on blanks supplied by the Board of Health to the main board provided by the rules of the State Board of Health, passed by the Indiana State Board of Health, February 27, 1918, as recorded in the minutes of the meeting of said board, and shall send such report direct to said board for state record and action.

Section 3. Patients to be Given Information. It shall be the duty of every person who examines or treats a person having syphilis, gonorrhea or chancroid, to instruct him in measures for preventing the spread of such disease, and to inform him of the necessity for treatment until cured, and to hand him a copy of the circular of information obtainable for this purpose from the State Board of Health.

Section 4. Investigation of Cases. A Fertilizer Bargain

MANURE, properly handled, is worth several dollars a ton. It replaces some fertilizers you would otherwise buy and it makes the soil rich in humus.

But to prevent rain from leaching out its nitrogen and potash, its most valuable content, you need a concrete manure pit. With a pit there is practically no loss.

Let us show you plans and give you a cost estimate for a concrete pit that will save the half that now goes to waste in the barnyard. It is a small investment but a big saving.

Rheumatism Leaves You Forever.

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed all druggists to guarantee it in every instance. adv.

Little Points Decisive in Successful Canning

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

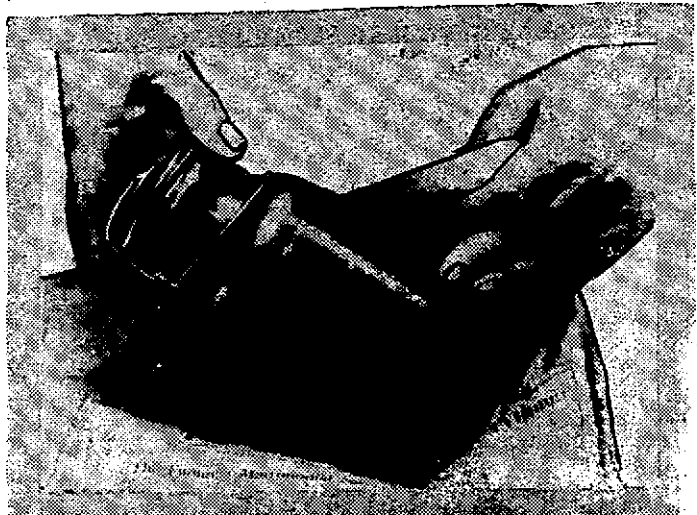

See that the kitchen is thoroughly clean before starting to can or make jelly. If dust is floating about, mold spores may enter the jars and cause the contents to spoil, according to United States Department of Agriculture specialists.

Select fruit for canning or jelly making just before it is perfectly ripe. Fermentation follows closely upon the perfectly ripe stage. Therefore, it is better to use underripe fruit. It is especially important in jelly making to use underripe fruit because in overripe, the pectin begins to lose its jelly making quality. Pectin is the substance in fruit which causes the jellying of a product made from it.

Fruits and vegetables for preserv-vegetables before paring. Wash berries by putting a small quantity of a time into a colander or sieve and pouring cold water over them.

Prepare only as much of the fruit or vegetable as can be canned while it still retains its color and freshness. Before preparing the product, have the sirup ready to fill the jars, if fruit is being canned, or the brine in case of vegetables. Sirups vary in proportions, to suit individual tastes, from 2 cups of sugar in 4 quarts of water, to 13 cups of sugar in 4 quarts of water. The brine used to fill the jars of vegetables is made from 2½ ounces of salt and 1 gallon of water, except for asparagus, which requires a heavier brine (4 ounces of salt to ing, canning and jelly making, if possible, should be freshly picked. Where it is impossible to use the products immediately, place them where they will keep cool and plump until they can be used. If spread in a thin layer they will keep better.

Before preparing fruits, provide plenty of hot water for boiling jars and sterilizing rubbers and utensils. Before preparing the fruit of vegetables, start heating water which is to be used for processing the filled cans.

Test jars for leaks. Wash carefully and boil for 15 minutes in sufficient water to cover jars. Leave in hot water until ready to use.

Test rubbers. If they can be folded and pinched without cracking and if a 4-inch section of one can be stretched until it is 2½ times its original length, they are suitable for use. Place in a hot solution of 1 teaspoon of cooking soda and 1 quart of boiling water. Leave the rubbers in the solution until ready to use.

Collect sugar, towels, jelly bag if jelly is being made, and all necessary utensils, before preparing fruits or vegetables.

Wash all large hard fruits or

1 gallon of water.) If practicable pare fruit with a silver knife so as not to stain or darken the product.

Many kinds of peaches may be peeled easily by dropping in boiling water about one minute, or until skins slip easily. The skins of some varieties stick so tenaciously that a lye solution is required to remove them. Use 4 tablespoons of concentrated lye in 4 quarts of boiling water. When skins crack, remove and wash thoroughly in cold water, and slip off the skins. Cut into halves, and pack at once, placing the halves in overlapping layers, pit side down.

getable to within ½ inch of top.

Do not stop to count the time required for processing until the water is bubbling after the jars are put in or if a steam pressure canner is used until live steam is escaping from the petcock.

An alarm clock which can be set to go off at the end of the time needed for processing is a convenience in the kitchen during the canning season.

When jars are removed after processing, make sure the cover is tight and that they are put to cool in a place where no draft reaches them as a draft is very likely to cause breakage. Turn jars upside down while cooling as a test for leakage, except the vacuum type, and leave in that position until cold.

Store in a cool, dark, dry place.

MEXICAN LABORERS

LOSE JOBS FOR $8

Must Pay That Much Tax to Come Into the United States to Get Employment.

CAUSES SHORTAGE OF MEN

Laredo, Tex., Aug. 7.—Inability to secure $8 is keeping many Mexican laborers from jobs that literally are before their eyes—and incidentally causing a farm labor shortage on the ranches of the Rio Grande Valley, that is worst in years.

Since passage of the draft laws, when thousands of Mexican laborers left the United States for Mexico to avoid military service, cheap labor has been at a premium throughout the Texas cotton belt and in truck farms and construction camps.

With the war over, employers immediately took steps to secure return of the Mexicans, but the United States Immigration Service refused to lift its ban. An $8 head tax is the first and most serious problem confronting the Mexican who wants to come back to his old job in American. Eight dollars to the average Mexican laborer, in Mexico, is as much as eight thousand. He hasn't that much and there is no way to get it.

Get Efficiency From Your Tractor

KEEP it in service constantly. The one best way to do that is to give it all the lubricating oil it will take, providing you select the correct oil.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has produced three oils which will correctly lubricate the entire range of tractors. These are:

Heavy Polarine Oil
Stanolind Tractor Oil
Extra Heavy Polarine Oil

Any Standard Oil representative will be glad to show you the chart of Tractor lubrication, prepared by our Engineering Staff. It indicates specifically which of these three oils the Standard Oil Engineers have found will give the best results in your particular tractor.

We have just published a 100-page book, "Tractors and Tractor Lubrication," prepared by our Engineering Staff, which you will find a valuable reference book, and we believe it will save you many days of tractor idleness with the resultant money loss.
